A Letter to Our Friends

Over the last 75 years, Family Health West has had quite a history, starting literally in a quaint house in town. In 1946, when the community wanted something more, local farmers used their beet trucks to gather the materials for our first hospital.

Through the dedicated determination of the leaders who have come before us, Family Health West, over the years, has built not one, but now two hospitals, a three-story independent living facility, two assisted livings, a three-story nursing home, a two-story medical office building, and numerous medical practices.

Although not all of these things still exist, Family Health West's ability to grow, adapt and change to the needs of the community proves its resolve to not only be present, 75 years later, but to be present for the next 75 years to come.

Family Health West is dedicated to supporting our community by transforming the healthcare experience and reimagining how we can make every patient's day a little bit better. It is easy to see each day in our teams of caregivers, whether they are actively saving a life, holding someone's hand at the end-of-life, or restoring life through our rehabilitation, and many clinical services. I get the privilege to witness healing in action each day at Family Health West, and I could not be more grateful, and thankful, to our wonderful staff, volunteers, and Board members for their remarkable talents, and to our generous community who continues to invest in our services. There's no simpler way to put it – together we flourish.

In Good Health,

Korrey Klein, MD
FHW PRESIDENT & CEO

Healthcare is what we do, but it is not who we are.

It All Started With A Vision

In the spring of 1884, a vision of the future swept before William Pabor. He saw homes being built and family circles gathering. He sensed the sprawling fields and lush orchards yet to come. Rose-covered cottages sprung up, children's laughter filled the air, and a community was settled with health and prosperity in mind. Its people flourished, and its families grew strong. Family Health West was built by those people, brick by brick. It rose up from the desert floor and became a haven for the people.

...I saw vineyards and orchards, and rose-embowered cottages in which love and happiness and contentment abode... I heard the merry voices of children yet to be born.

- William Pabor

Our History Inspires Our Care, Today

Our story is one of building, celebrating, striving, and thriving. We face adversity in unison with tenacity, patience, and good humor in order to grow the more beautiful community we know is possible. Today, we look forward to the future, approaching new horizons in healthcare while taking forward that same spirit of dreaming to create a beautiful tomorrow we all believe is possible.

2021- A Year In Review

- 1 | Being rooted in our community means more than providing healthcare. Adele, a high school student at Fruita Monument, spearheaded a passion project that we just had to get behind. Installing Flow machines throughout the high school bathroom to provide free and organic feminine hygiene products was Adele's vision and FHW is proud to be able to support this inclusive project.
- 2 | Meet sisters Zoe & Zara. They ride more than an hour each way, every week for Zara to receive intensive therapy. Zara is three-years-old and has a rare condition affecting her brain growth and development. Their mom is so grateful for the supportive team at FHW Pediatric Rehabilitation who works hard to support the whole family.
- 3 | Celebrating the achievements throughout the process, included a parking lot celebration when therapy patient, Tom, ran a mile unassisted. Following head trauma, Tom had been relearning to eat, walk, and talk. Through sheer determination and resilience, on a cool fall day, Tom was joined by Val, his Outpatient Rehab Therapist, and Dagan, a CMU therapy student, as they took a one mile lap around Fruita.
- 4 | The FHW Foundation celebrates the rooted history between FHW and our community by funding over $190K for initiatives close to our hearts.
